THE BEST IS YET TO COME

Céleste & Adrien

Six years, one borrowed book, and a lifetime of chapters ahead.

Dear family & friends

You have cheered us on through new jobs, new homes and countless Sunday lunches. Today, our favourite people are finally in one room. Make yourself at home, meet someone new, and save a little energy for the dance floor. We are so glad you are here.

With love, Céleste & Adrien

OUR LOVE STORY

The beginning. The milestones. The everyday.

The rain stopped. We stayed.

Céleste Laurent was looking for a novel. Adrien Moreau was sheltering from the rain. Neither expected a Bath bookshop to begin a story they would still tell six years later.

They reached for the same book, started talking, and carried the conversation to the café next door. One coffee became two. When the rain stopped, neither mentioned it.

Their next meeting was a walk by the river, then dinner somewhere new. Adrien arrived early. Céleste brought the book, already finished and full of opinions.

What followed was a collection of very good ordinary days. Sunday markets. Train journeys. Dinner with friends around a table that was always a little too small.

The little things.

Céleste reads the last page before the coffee goes cold. Adrien lets the record play to the end.

Their shelves tell the story: books, vinyl, and more mugs than two people need.

Love from home

Olive, our rescue cat and unofficial household editor, sends her love from the sunny windowsill. Extra cuddles have been arranged.

With love & thanks

From school days and borrowed books to dinners that ran late, you have made our ordinary days brighter. Having you all here means the world to us.

Thank you for the journeys, the encouragement and the love that brought us here. Leave with a new friend, a favourite photograph and a story of your own.

With love, Céleste & Adrien
